At 2 p. m. he will address the people from the grand stand at the fair ground and there is no doubt but what he will be greeted by thousands of people as a man should be who has done such great work in opening the eyes of the plain people of America to the conspiracy of the anglo-American gold bugs to fasten the yoke of financial slavery upon the necks of the common people. It is not often that the people have a chance to listen to a man so worthy of attention and it is to be hoped that thousands of them will turn out.

The Second Annual State Fair open-ed up yesterday under the most favorable auspices which promise to contin-

It was said to be the best opening day of any fair ever held in Wichita. so far as attendance and the excellence of the program are concerned.

The weather was all that could be de-

The weather was all that could be de-sired, cool enough to make the racing good and not too cold to cause discom-fort to the spectators.

The grounds were absolutely covered with various exhibits including every-thing one could conceive of and all re-marked that it was the best display they had ever seen on the grounds.

they had ever seen on the grounds.

The best of feeling prevailed and not a word of complaint was heard either against the management of the fair or the program of the day.

It is too early yet to describe the exhi-bits in detail, but on the aggregate they exceed anything heretofore seen on these grounds, The live stock exhibit is attracting a great deal of attention and so is the agricultural products exhibits.

Today a large crowd is expected not only on account of the presence of Mr. Harvey, but also on account of a hot program in the speed ring. THE RACES.

Only two events were on the card for the entertainment of the public yesterday, the opening day of the great Kan-sas State fair, but these two were characterized by red hot racing and whinping finnishes. Promptly at 1:30 o'clock the best starter i the west, W. P. Mo-Nair, tapped the bell for the starters in the 2:40 trot and seven notable harness performers lined up for the word. After several scores they got away to a line start with Valencia at the pole swhich he held to the first turn where Lady Laye out footed him, carried him to a break and took the pole position, which she maintained clear around to the wire, the brown stallion Greever finishing second. Time of the heat

The favorite, Gordon Cummings, had made no move for this heat but when they got the word on the first score on the second, he shot to the front and it was all over but the shouting, Cum-mings finishing first, Lady Loye second and Valencia third. Time, 2:20%.

The third and fourth heats were but repetitions of the second. Lady Loye never could get to Cummings wheel and he won well within himself, lowering his record in the fourth heat to

After two heats had been trotted in the 2:40 class the 2:15 pace was sandwiched with the trot. The pacers acted a little bit rocky but got off after considerable scoring, with John Kinney at the pole. At the quarter Hurxthal pushed Juliet to the front and took the pole followed by Billy The Twister.

Mrs. Mary E. Lease drove down to pole, followed by Billy The Twister. These positions were held to the wire, Juliet filnishing pulled up in 2:15%. The second heat was the same as the first, Juliet finnishing first, with Onward Te-well close up in second place, Billy The Twister a good third, Time, 2:15. In the third heat Hurxthal stepped his Fa tle mare down to the half in 1:08%, where Onword Tewell came up and challenged her, but the best he could do was to make the Bonnie Clay filly come home the last quarter at a 2:08 clip. Time of the heat 2:15,

He said they had good buildings at Burton and they wanted to know how much damage would be done to the much damage would be done to the buildings before closing the contract and it was for that purpose that Mr. Ringking was coming. They would talk it over and close the trade.

"The Populists down there have nominated a theket but it is hardly possible they can cleet it. They are, however, keeping up the campaign of education and they are right and the truth will finally prevail."

"Well," said Judge Williams, "that makes a difference."It was understood by the applicants for the receivership that the mortgagees did not object to the appointment of a receiver and they so stated and when C. C. Baker, by his attorney, J. D. McFarland, of Topeka, entered the objection, the attorneys on the other side claimed that Baker had deceived them, that he had given them to understand that he did not object to the appointment of a receiver.

The proceedings were instituted by J. E. Baker of St. Louis, who holds a personal judgment against J. K. Hudson and he made the Topeka Capital Publishing Co., a party to the suit and asked that a receiver be appointed. The Capital Co., and J. K. Hudson were represented by R. B. Welch and W. P. Donphit and E. S. Quinton for J. E. Baker.

Grounds for the application were bas-ed on the grounds that Major Hudson was the actual owner of the Capital and that the corporation was formed for the purpose of standing off his cred-itors, but they did not sustain this . Quinton addressed the court and Air. Quinton addressed the court and stated the debts against the Capital at one time were $114,187 and that at the present time there were mortgages and claims against them to the amount of $77,497 and that no report had been made since June 2, 1891, and that no meeting of the directors had been held for four or five years. He asserted that J. K. Hudson and his family were drawing the earnings of the paper in salaries and that the plant was proin salaries and that the plant was probably worth $60,000.

Mr. Welch repudiated any intimation that Major Hudson had done anything but what was right. He declared that his reputation among the people with whom he lived was such that no man would accuse this of a disconset husiwould accuse him of a dishonest business transaction. He stated that the Topeka Capital Co., was formed in June, 1896 and an affidavit of J. K. Hudson was read which stated that owing to the financial depression the property had not been able to make ought not to be allowed to have a re-ceiver appointed because if Hadson owns this plant as plaintiff avers then he has a remedy at law. He deciared that there were other stockholders who had subscribed and paid for stock in good faith and now to put the Topeka Capital into the hands of a receiver would wipe out their interests in it. He admitted that J. K. Hudson had placed seventy-two shares in the hands placed seventy-two shares in the hands of J. R. Mulyane to guarantee the pay-ment of mortgages. Mr. Quinton answered by saying that this proceeding was not brought against J. K. Hudson as an individual stockholder but as the owner of the property. He seemed to think that J. K. Hudson and the Topeka Capital Co., were all one and he said that the seventy-two shares of stock had been any enty-two shares of stock had been put in Mulvane's hands at his own request and the mortagees had never consent-ed to it nor had they agreed to relieve part of the day.

It looked at one time very much like Judge Williams intended to appoint a receiver but at the critical moment C. C. Baker, first mortagee turned the bide in favor of Major Hudson by put.

Mr. Welch stated to the court that the corporation was paying its debts.

when Judge Willams said the claim seems to be set up that Hudson is insolvent and the corporation solvent and that the corporation was conceived in iniquity and brought forth in sin.

He was evidently getting ready to appoint the receiver when Co. Baker point the receiver when C. C. Baker entered his objection. Judge Williams sald that in order not to frejudice the rights of the mortagees he would not appoint a receiver at this time but if the mortagees were at this time but if the mortagess were not closed at once he should make the appointment, and S. B. Isenhart was appointed master in chancery to take further testimony in the case. The po-sition taken by Judge Williams was that he would neither appoint a receiv-er nor refuse to appoint but would ewait developments. await developments.

The first mortgage held by C. C. Baker is for $19,000 and it was also stated that Mrs. P. B. Plumb holds a mortgage for $17,000 against the Capital. It used to be held that this claim of Plumb's was not a legitimate claim but Mr. Hudson's attorney stated to a reporter for the Eagle that Mrs. Plumb held a legitimate mortgage and she woud force collection.

Mr. Tilford's smiling countenance is again very much in evidence at the gate of the fair grounds where he watches the tickets with an eagle eye. "Dad" is a faithful man at his post and the fair grounds gate would not look natur-al without him.

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington says that: "The president Washington, Oct. 1.—The president today commuted to imprisonment for life the death sentence imposed upon Clyde Mattox of Kansas, who was sentenced to hang on the 11th inst., for murdering John Mullen, a colored man. The commutation resulted from a personal appeal made by the mother to the president. In the indorsement the president says: "It is with much hesitation that I can show any measure of clemency in this case inasmuch as I do not regard this convict as entitled to any sympathy because of his former life or testimony taken on his trial. I have concluded, however, after anxious and perplexing consideration of all the facts presented to me to save the conviot from death awaiting him under the same time effectually protect society in future against his victous propensities by directing imprisonment.
